A small group of dedicated Galilee women who have been creating art together for fifteen years can now look with pride and satisfaction on their achievements, embodied in the 'Galilee Silks' workshop.

The heart of our operation has always been raw silk which we dye using a variety of techniques. This was the starting-point for a growing range of silk and part-silk creations, and the inspiration for our diversifying into other materials with similar qualities: soft, delicate and transparent.

Our workshop is in effect a studio, focussed on creating new and unique products, led by a dynamic team of Israeli women who are powered by an innovative urge in design, techniques and management. Heading our staff and largely responsible for 'Galilee Silks' distinctive ambience are Shlomit Azati and Hadara Zaks.

A wide range of exciting and original products of outstanding beauty and quality, both in Fashion and Judaica, has made possible our penetration of markets the world over, from Scandinavia and other European countries to the USA and Canada.
